

IGEC Best Student Presentation Award

The IGEC Best Student Presentation Award recognizes and celebrates the excellent research performed and presented by the students who participate in the International Green Energy Conference (IGEC). The Award may include a cash prize based on the availability of sponsorship.

Eligibility

The presenter must be a student currently enrolled in a college or university.

Application Process

The students, to be considered for the Award, should indicate so at the submission stage. The presentations to be considered for the Award are expected to be recorded during the Conference.

Evaluation

Presentations are evaluated by the judging panel based on Contents and Presentation (visual and oral).
